Advance Conference Information | December 1, 2026

SAVE THE DATE
December 1, 2026 | Northern Virginia | Venue to be announced
Formal invitations, RSVP, and presenter submissions open September 15, 2026. Deadline: November 11, 2026.

Why This Conference

ARRO-USA is preparing a one-time, six-hour institutional convening designed to convert broad introductions into structured collaboration points, bilateral follow-up opportunities, and formal agreements only where appropriate. The conference is not intended to duplicate services already provided by established institutions.

Who We Are Bringing Together

- Government institutions and public systems
- Workforce systems, employers, and economic-development organizations
- Foundations, funders, and philanthropic institutions
- Universities, schools, and education partners
- Health, humanitarian, refugee, legal, and community service organizations
- Nonprofit organizations, community leaders, and strategic private-sector stakeholders

What Participants Can Expect

- ARRO-USA institutional introduction and strategic operating overview
- Sector-based institutional presentation blocks
- Standardized short presentations focused on mission, services, operating model, populations served, and collaboration interests
- Structured collaboration-interest capture and follow-up
- Post-conference analysis and bilateral follow-up where mission and capacity align

Presentation Standard

Institutional presenters will use a disciplined short format so information is comparable and the conference protects time for collaboration mapping. Presentations should address: organization identity; mission and vision; programs/services/capabilities; implementation model; population and geographic coverage; and collaboration interests. Planning standard: approximately 5 minutes plus 1 minute transition, subject to final agenda reconciliation.

Important Participation Control

NON-BINDING PARTICIPATION

Registration, presentation submission, attendance, discussion, or form completion records interest and participation only. None of these actions independently creates a partnership, MOU, funding commitment, data-sharing arrangement, or implementation authorization.
